

Cole Harbour, Nova Scotia! (December 2018)

After a beautiful drive through the snow covered Cape Breton Highlands, we arrived to Cole Harbour, Nova Scotia – home to Sidney Crosby, Nathan MacKinnon, the Trailer Park Boys, and now us! After enjoying a lot of home cooking and fried food (best french fries!) in Newfoundland it was nice to go out for some delicious Thai and Lebanese food.

Cole Harbour, Nova Scotia – Winter Wonderland

There are lots of hiking trails nearby, many along the Harbour. The Salt Marsh Trail actually runs from one side of the Harbour to the other, with bridges linking several islands along the way.

Halifax, Nova Scotia (December 2018)

Halifax is just across the bridge, about 20 minutes away. So far we've checked out the Farmers Market and walked around town a bit. No doubt we'll be visiting Halifax from time to time.

Cole Harbour, Nova Scotia (December 2018) - Surf and Turf

Much to our surprise, fishing season is open in December! We've already had our turkey dinner so it will be Digby scallops and lobster bisque for us over the holidays – what a treat.
